Floorball in Singapore National Games 2018 sport selection

Floorball has grown tremendously since its introduction to Singapore in 1994, with over 15,000 players across more than 200 schools and 100 clubs playing the sport. What makes the sport unique is the appeal to both genders. In the 2017 SG Floorball Open, there was an approximate 50-50 split in participation amongst men and women teams.

SG Floorball Open aims to advance to a tournament that is on par with those in Europe and attract European teams of all abilities and ages to participate.

The tournament intends to further develop elite teams in Singapore and Asia by competing against top international teams. Additionally, it provides a competitive platform for teams of all levels to work towards and improve their skills.
